

The American government, on behalf of the American citizenry, has entrusted Sinclair Broadcasting with the right to use public airwaves for the good of the public.

America, however, is a democracy, one in which all points of view must be considered equally for the common good to be served.

Sinclair has demonstrated that it is more concerned with its own political agenda than with strengthening our system of government that we so revere.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.